The Diploma in Integrated Emergency Management is a vocational qualification with academic recognition for those who wish to progress to Postgraduate studies with the University of Stirling. While the DipIEM is the only entry qualification you require in order to access Postgraduate studies, it is useful for the Diploma tutors to understand your academic history after leaving school. Please complete the following, if you are willing.

Qualification	Year	College/University/Professional body

During your studies on the DipIEM, FIOR will maintain an accurate record of your performance on all assessments and exercises. This data will be provided to you in full on completion of the programme and to the University of Stirling should it be requested with your approval.
